

VISION

Every Christian should be able to confidently engage a secular world without compromising their faith. Every skeptic should have their unbelief challenged “with gentleness and respect” (1 Peter 3:15).

MISSION

We show you how to stand up for the truth of the Gospel over and against competing worldviews - the ideas that shape culture.

MINISTRY HISTORY

Fixed Point was founded in 2004 to proclaim and defend the Gospel in the secular marketplace and equip others to do the same. We’ve engaged some of Christianity’s most vitriolic critics and produced resources that enable believers to confidently share their faith. We’ve established a reputation for fairness in addressing key cultural hot button issues with an uncompromising commitment to truth. Our work has been featured in The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, USA Today, and more. Throughout our history, Fixed Point has sought out prolific writers, thinkers, speakers, and leaders on important worldview topics for the purpose of fostering meaningful dialogue on the ideas that shape culture. Today our digital platform has grown to over 30,000 subscribed users as we continue to challenge the unbelief of skeptics and equip believers to confidently engage a secular world without compromising their faith.
